

Dear Gosher,

Since you are in jail, the Tibetan language, traditions, culture, and identity are also jailed.

Today I remember a Tibetan proverb:

If I tell you my dream, you might forget it. If I act on my dream, perhaps you will remember it, but if I involve you, it becomes your dream too.

The PEN community will never stop advocating for your dreams of freedom, which are our dreams too, and your life.

Sincerely,
Jennifer Clement
